

Testing was performed without the plastic enclosure to demonstrate worst-case spurious emission levels.

