

Operation Description

Connect to AC power, the DC voltage will provide current. The current flows through the startup resistor to charge the integral capacitor. When the voltage sufficient to trigger the breakdown diode conduction to make the transistor behind conduction and saturation. Fluorescent lamp is light on.