Use Your Receiver

1. Plug the audio cable or the RCA cable into the AUDIO jack, then connect to your speaker or amplifier.
2. Connect the supplied power adapter to the DC IN jack, then plug into a standard AC outlet. The indicator flashes red and your receiver starts to search for Bluetooth devices.
3. See instructions of your Bluetooth device to pair with the receiver. After successful pairing, the indicator lights blue. If your device uses Bluetooth 2.0 or below, enter the password 0000 for Bluetooth connection.
4. Use the playback controls on your audio device.
5. Disconnect the Bluetooth connection after using, the indicator lights red.

Note:

- You can download Auvo EQ App free from the App StoreSM and Google PlayTM to customize your calls and music.
- If your Bluetooth device is out of connection range and disconnects with the receiver, move back within range within 10 minutes to reconnect automatically.
- Using an adapter that does not meet the receiver's specifications could damage the receiver.

FCC Information

This equipment has been tested and found to comply with the limits for a Class B digital device, pursuant to Part 15 of the FCC Rules. These limits are designed to provide reasonable protection against harmful interference in a residential installation. This equipment generates, uses and can radiate radio frequency energy and, if not installed and used in accordance with the instructions, may cause harmful interference to radio communications. However, there is no guarantee that interference will not occur in a particular installation. If this equipment does cause harmful interference to radio or television reception, which can be determined by turning the equipment off and on, the user is encouraged to try

6

- to correct the interference by one or more of the following measures:
 - Reorient or relocate the receiving antenna.
 - Increase the separation between the equipment and receiver.
 - Connect the equipment into an outlet on a circuit different from that to which the receiver is connected.
 - Consult the dealer or an experienced radio/TV technician for help.

Changes or modifications not expressly approved by the party responsible for compliance could void the user's authority to operate the equipment. This device complies with Part 15 of the FCC Rules. Operation is subject to the following two conditions: (1) This device may not cause harmful interference, and (2) this device must accept any interference received, including interference that may cause undesired operation.
