

Operational description

Upon power-up of the Outdoor Pico Base Station, a loader application (burned in FLASH and different then the SW application) launches the SW application. The Application initializes its internal modules and waits for a command to activate WiMAX activity. Command is sent via servers or manually. Upon command the downlink and uplink is activated and the Base Station is ready to serve the end users.