

FM9S

The polyphase Vision meter is a solid state three phase watthour meter capable of metering all common utility configurations which require a transformer rated meter. When equipped with the High Power Airpoint module, the Vision polyphase meter transmits consumption messages for up to 3 energy values via 900 MHz radio to utility mobile meter reading equipment.