WCG91501 – 915 MHz Wireless Charging Grip

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

The Powercast Wireless Charging Grip (WCG91501) has been designed to charge its internal battery wirelessly while in range of a 915MHz RF Transmitter (such as the PowerSpot® TX91503 RF Wireless Power Transmitter). The Wireless Charging Grip uses this stored, wirelessly harvested power to recharge attached Joy-Con controllers. The WCG91501 is made out of durable plastic and designed to comfortably house Joy-Con controllers for wireless recharging and for enhanced game play. An optional USB-C connector can provide DC power to charge the WCG91501 at a more rapid rate. The WCG91501 includes a status LED to provide feedback on battery and charging status. Once Joy-Con controllers are properly mounted, the WCG91501 begins charging the controllers from its internal battery.

Notes:

1. If the WCG91501 LED does not respond when placed in front of the transmitter, verify that the switch on the back of the device is turned on. If the LED still does not respond turn the switch off for 5 seconds and then turn it back on. If the LED still does not respond the battery could be fully depleted. Place the WCG91501 in front of the PowerSpot TX91503 RF Wireless Power Transmitter and enable the transmitter manually by pressing the button on top. See the PowerSpot TX91503 instruction manual for more information.
2. When the WCG91501 will not be used for a long period of time, turn the rear switch off to avoid discharging or potentially damaging the internal battery.
3. If a firmware upgrade is available for your WCG91501, turn the switch off on the back and insert a USB-C cable. Turn the switch on and within 2 minutes, utilize the recommended mobile phone application to connect to the WCG91501 and upload the firmware upgrade. Once the upgrade is complete, remove the USB-C cable and turn the switch off and then back on.
4. The WCG91501 will only charge the inserted Joy-Con controllers if the WCG91501 internal battery has adequate charge. The Joy-Con controllers will automatically begin charging from the WCG91501 once the internal battery has been recharged to the required level. Note if the internal battery is extremely discharged causing the LED to not indicate charge status, the PowerSpot TX91503 RF Wireless Power Transmitter can be manually enabled for charging by pressing the button.
