Overview

This application is for a Class II Permissive Change to FCC ID: ZKP-XSCP0001 because there is an up-dated version of the radio chip used in the product. The newer version is pin for pin compatible with the older chip. The changes in the new version were made to the WLAN portion of the chip to reduce spurious emissions. The output power levels of the radios as well as the frequency determining circuitry remain unchanged. The new version also adds Bluetooth LE but that additional capability will not be used in the products with this FCC ID.
