APPLICATION FOR SECTION 214 AUTHORITY

TCN-USA.com, hereby respectfully requests authority pursuant to Section 214 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended ("Act"), 47 U.S.C. Section 214, and Section 63-18 of the Commission's Rules 47 C.F.R. Section 63.18, to provide global international facilities-based and resold basic switched and private line services for the carriage of customer traffic, including voice, facsimile, video, and data service, between the United States and foreign destinations. The instant application meets the requirements of 47 C.F.R. Section 63.12 and thus is eligible for streamlined processing.

I. INTRODUCTION

TCN-USA.com, headquarters in Germantown, MD. currently operates no private line facilities and proposes to offer overseas lines initially to provide international private line services to customers by connecting through facilities acquired from other entities, including common carriers and/or private entities on an Indefeasible Right of User ("IRU") and/or leased basis. Based on its review of the market for international services, TCN-USA.com believes that sufficient demand exists for additional international private line offerings to the international points it proposes to serve to justify its entering into that business.

TNC-USA.com believes that there is substantial potential for continued growth in the international private line, as well as the switched voice and data markets,¹ and that this expansion will be accelerated by additional competition by new entrants. Moreover, the Commission has determined that increased competition in the international market is in the public interest and, as a result, has routinely authorized new entrants upon making such findings.² The Commission has also found that increased competition through the resale of international switched voice service is also in the public interest.³

International private line services to overseas points are currently offered by a large number of other facilities-based and resale carriers. Existing international facilities and services are inadequate insofar as additional entry of international resale carriers will further stimulate demand and encourage more efficient service at lower cost. Absent a grant of the instant application, international telecommunications users will not be able to benefit from the increased service options and competitive prices which will be offered by TCN-USA.com. TCN-USA.com will also be able to offer one-stop domestic and international shopping to its customers.

² See e.g., International Telecom, Inc., 6 FCC Rcd 1964 (1991) (citing Teltec Savings Communications Co., FCC File No. I-T-C-86-062, Mimeo No. 3548, released Apr. 4, 1986, and cases cited therein).

³ See, e.g., Argo Communications International, Inc., 1 FCC Rcd 578 (1986) and TDX Systems, Inc., FCC File No. I-T-C-86-108, Mimeo No. 6609, released Sept. 2, 1986.

As stated above, TCN-USA.com proposes to obtain the requisite capacity by leasing international private lines and/or purchasing IRUs from private and/or common carriers to provide quality international telecommunications services between the United States and international points. Such arrangements will be based on individual contract negotiations or tariffs as applicable to the entities from which the facilities will be obtained. TCN-USA.com would compete with other carriers that already provide similar international telecommunications services to overseas points.

TCN-USA.com believes that the added competition its entry would bring to the market will benefit the consumers of telecommunications services between the United States and international points. These benefits include competitive pricing and the increased availability of a variety of service options. The grant of this authorization will therefore further the public interest.
