Republic Wireless, Inc. International Section 214 Application

Question 4 - Other Company(ies) and Place(s) of Incorporation

Bandwidth.com, Inc. is the corporate parent of Republic Wireless, Inc. (“Applicant”) and Bandwidth.com CLEC, LLC. A “Republic Wireless” business division of Bandwidth.com, Inc. currently serves hybrid CMRS/interconnected VoIP service customers. Applicant is filing this application as part of a multi-step transaction where its corporate parent, Bandwidth.com, Inc., will transfer the hybrid service customers to Applicant after Applicant obtains international Section 214 authorization. The transfer is intended to be seamless to the customers being transferred.

Applicant and Bandwidth.com, Inc. intend to file a pro forma notification with the Commission upon the transfer of those customers. Because the customers to be transferred are hybrid wireless/interconnected VoIP customers, Applicant does not believe that the Commission’s rules governing mass migrations are applicable to that transfer. Upon that transfer, Bandwidth.com, Inc. will no longer be providing hybrid services directly to the transferred customers but the customers will continue to receive services following the transfer from Bandwidth.com, Inc.’s subsidiary. Bandwidth.com, Inc. does not believe that the Commission’s discontinuance rules apply to the transaction since no hybrid service customers will be losing service as a result of the transfer and Bandwidth.com, Inc. will continue to provide interconnected VoIP and other services to its customers.

Question 9 - Request for Streamlined Processing (Section 63.12):

Applicant respectfully requests streamlined processing of this Application pursuant to Section 63.12 of the Commission’s Rules. 47 C.F.R. § 63.12.
