Answer to Question 13 – Narrative Description of Pro Forma Transaction

On June 25, 2014 the parties completed a pro forma transaction involving the assignment of the international 214 authorization currently held by OH WDH Holdco, LLC in conjunction with a bond offering initiated by its parent company. Wave Holdco, LLC which now holds the international 214 authorization, will remain a wholly-owned subsidiary of Oak Hill Capital Partners and GI Capital Partners.

An assignment of a license from one wholly-owned company to another wholly-owned company, without any change in ultimate control of the licensee, is a presumptively pro forma transaction under the Commission's rules.² This pro forma transaction will have no impact on company's customers, the services provided by the company, or any aspect of operations of the company.
