CPC Engle Holdings, Inc. is not a foreign carrier and is not affiliated with a foreign carrier.

Answer to Question #13:

This pro forma transfer of control took place in connection with the retirement of one of the principal owners of Combined Public Communications, Inc. Through a multi-staged reorganization, Combined Public Communications, Inc. was converted from an Ohio corporation to a Delaware limited liability company named Combined Public Communications, LLC. A new holding company, CPC Engle Holdings, Inc., was incorporated as a Delaware corporation. The remaining owner, Cathleen Engle, will continue to control more than 50% of the outstanding stock of the Company through the new company, CPC Engle Holdings, Inc., which she will directly control. As part of the same transaction, CPC Engle Holdings, Inc. formed Client Telephone Solutions, LLC (“Solutions”) as a Delaware limited liability company and subsidiary of CPC Engle Holdings, Inc. This company will function as a direct parent of Combined Public Communications, LLC. Please see Attachment 2 for a Pre-/ Post Organization Chart showing the ownership structure of CPC Engle Holdings, Inc. and its operating subsidiaries. This transfer is pro forma because it involves the transfer of Section 214 Authority from an existing limited liability company to a newly-formed indirect parent corporation owned by the transferor shareholders without substantial change in their interests.
