David and Sumita:

This is in response to your inquiry concerning 10% ownership interests in Latin Node and its two subsidiaries, Total Solutions and TS Telecom (collectively, the "214 Holders").

Upon consummation of the transfer, the 214 holders will be owned 80% by eLandia (transferee) and 20% by RAV (transferor). Information on eLandia's ownership was contained in the 214 transfer applications. With respect to RAV, there are 3 owners, all of whom hold less than a 50% ownership and voting interest. Accordingly, using the FCC's multiplier, none of these 3 owners will individually hold a 10% or greater ownership or voting interest in the 214 Holders.

Please contact me if you have any questions.
