Answer to Question 9

Pursuant to a Sale and Purchase Agreement dated August 28, 2008 (the "SPA"), CITIC 1616 Holdings Limited ("CITIC 1616") is acquiring China Motion NetCom and its U.S. subsidiary, CM Tel (USA) LLC, from ChinaMotion NetCom Holdings Limited, a subsidiary of China Motion Telecom International Limited. CITIC 1616 will acquire CM Tel (USA) LLC through CITIC 1616's indirectly wholly owned subsidiary, Pacific Networks Corp. ("Pacific Networks"). Pursuant to the SPA, majority ownership and control of CM Tel (USA) LLC will remain ultimately with China Motion Telecom International Limited until the transfer of control of CM Tel (USA) LLC to Pacific Networks is approved by the Commission.

Public Interest Statement

Commission authorization of the application is in the public interest because it will increase competition in international communications between the United States and international points, particularly Asia. Pacific Networks resells international voice and data to operators on a wholesale basis pursuant to a Section 214 authorization. CM Tel (USA) LLC engages in retail sales of prepaid or postpaid IDD calling cards, mainly for use in calling from the United States to China, and in wholesale sales of interconnections with U.S. carriers to carry international voice traffic, again largely from the United States to China. Commission authorization of this application will permit Pacific Networks to inject fresh capital to CM Tel (USA) LLC's business and would result in increased efficiencies in the provision of these international services.
