Answer to Question 13

Means by which transfer of control has taken place

Prior to the transaction, Ben Lomand Rural Telephone Cooperative, Inc. (Ben Lomand) owned fifty percent of the stock of Synergy and WK&T owned the other fifty percent with Synergy being controlled by WK&T's Board of Directors. Pursuant to a stock purchase agreement executed between Ben Lomand and WK&T, WK&T acquired the 50% stock ownership of Ben Lomand, thereby becoming the sole shareholder of Synergy and the indirect holder of control of the Ardmore Section 214 authority.

Ardmore Telephone Company, the holder of the Section 214 authority, remains a wholly-owned subsidiary of Synergy and will continue to operate under its Section 214 authority.
