63.18(d) Transferor and Transferee Information: Neither transferor nor transferee has received Section 214 authority from the FCC. SOFTBANK Telecom America Corp. ("SOFTBANK Telecom America") holds the Section 214 authorizations that are the subject of this notification.¹

Answer to Question 11:

SOFTBANK Mobile Corp. is the surviving entity following a pro forma transfer of control whereby SOFTBANK Telecom Corp. was merged into SOFTBANK Mobile Corp. In turn, SOFTBANK Mobile Corp. is a 100% owned subsidiary of SOFTBANK Corp. ("SOFTBANK"). SOFTBANK is organized under the laws of Japan and provides comprehensive information technology, network infrastructure, digital platform and contents services. The address of SOFTBANK is Tokyo Shiodome Bldg., 1-9-1, Higashi-shimbashi, Minato-ku, Tokyo 105-7303.

The only person or entity that directly or indirectly owns ten percent or more of SOFTBANK's equity is Masayoshi Son, a Japanese citizen whose principal business is serving as SOFTBANK's President and Chief Executive Officer. Mr. Son's address is Tokyo Shiodome Bldg., 1-9-1, Higashi-Shimbashi, Minato-ku, Tokyo 105-7303.

¹ The Parties note that on May 9, 2013, the FCC was notified by letter that Japan Telecom America, Inc., the holder of the subject Section 214 authorizations at the time, had formally changed its name to SOFTBANK Telecom America Corp. (See Letter from Joseph A. Godles, Counsel, to Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary, submitted in IBFS.) In that same notification, SOFTBANK Telecom America requested that the International Bureau update the IBFS records for each of the Section 214 authorizations to reflect its new name. The IBFS records for the subject Section 214 authorizations continue to show the former name of the entity.
