

NOTIFICATION OF PRO FORMA TRANSFER OF CONTROL OF INTERNATIONAL SECTION 214 AUTHORIZATIONS

INTRODUCTION

Sprint Corporation (“Sprint”), on behalf of itself and its wholly owned subsidiaries, hereby provides notice to the Federal Communications Commission (“Commission” or “FCC”) of a pro forma transfer of control pursuant to 47 C.F.R. § 63.24(f).¹

On July 12, 2016, SoftBank Group Corp. (“SoftBank”), the entity that ultimately holds the majority of Sprint’s equity and voting interests, completed a pro forma internal restructuring. Specifically, SoftBank inserted a wholly owned subsidiary (SoftBank Group International GK) into the vertical ownership chain between it and the holding companies in which its Sprint shares are currently held. SoftBank Group International GK is now a disclosable indirect interest holder in Sprint as a result of the transaction. This corporate reorganization does not result in a substantial transfer of control of Sprint or its licensee subsidiaries, as ultimate control of Sprint has not changed.

DESCRIPTION OF THE PARTIES

SoftBank

SoftBank is a Japanese kabushiki kaisha² and holding company that is publicly traded on the Tokyo Stock Exchange.³ SoftBank’s subsidiaries and affiliates are engaged in a number of ¹ Sprint received prior approval from the Commission for this pro forma transaction with respect to those licenses and authorizations for which prior approval is required. See, e.g., IBFS File Nos. SES-T/C-20160412-00345 and SES-T/C-20160412-00360 (filed April 11, 2016, consented to July 7, 2016); ULS File No. 0007217516 (filed April 11, 2016; consented to May 4, 2016); see also Petition for Declaratory Ruling of Sprint Corporation, IBFS File No. ISP-PDR-20160411-00006 (filed April 11, 2016; granted June 30, 2016); Public Notice, International Authorizations Granted, Report No. TEL-01804, DA 16-827, at 2-3 (rel. information technology and Internet-related businesses, including mobile communications, broadband infrastructure, fixed-line telecommunications, e-commerce, and web portals. In July 2013, following approval by regulatory authorities, SoftBank acquired an approximately 78% indirect interest in the entity that is now Sprint.⁴ As of December 31, 2015, SoftBank held an approximately 83.4% indirect interest in Sprint through two wholly owned subsidiaries: Starburst I, Inc. (“Starburst I”) and Galaxy Investment Holdings, Inc. (“Galaxy”). Specifically, SoftBank holds a 77.5% interest in Sprint through Starburst I, and a 5.9% interest through Galaxy.

SoftBank Group International GK

SoftBank Group International GK⁵ is a Japanese godo kaisha.⁶ It was previously a dormant investment holding company, and it is a wholly owned direct subsidiary of SoftBank. It is also authorized to conduct other business, including: information provision services; information processing services; acquiring, holding and managing securities; advertising agency services; and any business related to or incidental to the foregoing.

² A kabushiki kaisha is a Japanese joint stock corporation, analogous to a U.S. C corporation.

³ SoftBank Group Corp. was formerly known as SOFTBANK CORP. Since the 2013 Order (defined below), it has changed its name to SoftBank Group Corp. SoftBank Mobile Corp., which is a 100%-owned subsidiary of SoftBank Group Corp. that is otherwise unaffiliated with Sprint, changed its name to SoftBank Corp. following a merger of the former SoftBank Mobile Corp. with certain other SoftBank subsidiaries (i.e., SoftBank BB Corp., SoftBank Telecom Corp., and Ymobile Corporation).

⁴ The initial transactions resulting in SoftBank’s acquisition of Sprint are further described in the FCC’s 2013 Order approving the transactions. See generally Applications of SOFTBANK CORP., Starburst II, Inc., Sprint Nextel Corporation, and Clearwire Corporation for Consent to Transfer Control of Licenses and Authorizations; Petitions for Reconsideration of Applications of Clearwire Corporation for Pro Forma Transfer of Control, Memorandum Opinion and Order, Declaratory Ruling, and Order on Reconsideration, 28 FCC Rcd 9642 (2013) (“2013 Order”).

⁵ SoftBank International GK was formerly named BM Holdings GK.

⁶ A godo kaisha is a Japanese company analogous to a U.S. limited liability company, which offers limited liability to its members.

Sprint Corporation

Sprint is a publicly traded Delaware corporation and global communications company that, through its subsidiaries, offers a comprehensive range of wireless and wireline voice and data products and services to residential, business, government, and reseller consumers throughout the United States and around the world. Sprint offers wireless and/or wireline voice and data services in all fifty states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and the U.S. Virgin Islands. Sprint is primarily a holding company, with most operations conducted by its subsidiaries, including the subsidiaries listed on the attached Exhibit A.

Answer to Question 12:

Interlocking directorates with foreign carriers are listed in the attached Exhibit B.

Certification of Pro Forma Transfer of Control:

Sprint certifies that the transfer of control was pro forma, as defined in 47 C.F.R. § 63.24(d), and, together with all previous pro forma transactions, does not result in a change of the licensee's ultimate control.

DESCRIPTION OF THE TRANSACTION (Answer to Question 13):

On March 7, 2016, SoftBank's Board of Directors resolved to reorganize SoftBank's intermediate and holding companies to insert a wholly owned subsidiary, SoftBank Group International GK, into the vertical ownership chain between SoftBank and the holding companies (i.e., Starburst I and Galaxy) in which its Sprint shares were held. On July 12, 2016, SoftBank effected the reorganization by transferring 100% of Galaxy shares and 15,300 Starburst I shares (approximately 70.4% of SoftBank's interest in Starburst I) to SoftBank Group International GK.⁸ Diagrams showing the relevant changes to SoftBank's corporate structure are attached hereto as Exhibit C.

The purpose of SoftBank's reorganization was to separate SoftBank's global and domestic operations, which will enable SoftBank to provide greater transparency to its shareholders in reporting the performance of its business operations in Japan and its business operations abroad. This, in turn, serves the public interest by increasing efficiency in corporate operations and improving SoftBank's value. There were no changes to SoftBank's stock, or to the ultimate ownership of SoftBank's voting or equity interests in Sprint, as a result of the transaction. The SoftBank subsidiaries directly above Sprint (Starburst I and Galaxy) remain the same and their ownership percentages of Sprint did not change as a result of the reorganization. Likewise, the insertion of SoftBank Group International GK into the SoftBank corporate structure has no impact on Sprint's operations, certificated entities, ultimate ownership, or ultimate control, and thus is seamless for Sprint's customers, who will continue to receive the same services over the same facilities. However, as SoftBank's subsidiary, Sprint ultimately benefits from the increased efficiency and improved transparency effected by the restructuring. As a result of reorganizing in a way that improves its value, SoftBank is better positioned to manage and invest in Sprint's operations over the long term. Moreover, because the transaction is pro forma in nature, involving no change in substantial control over Sprint, it falls presumptively within the public interest.⁹

⁸ Although no final decision has been made, at some point, SoftBank may also decide to transfer the remaining 6,422 shares of Starburst I (approximately 29.6% of SoftBank's interest in Starburst I) to SoftBank Group International GK. The applicants include this information in the interest of transparency, but note that such action would not require regulatory approval.
