Dear Ms. Salas,

I am writing on behalf of the Ecole Superieure des Sciences et Techniques de l'Information et de la Communication (ESSTIC), ESSTIC is a public system of higher education serving over 200 students throughout Cameroon. Our mission is to provide access to higher education opportunities for Cameroonian citizens and to support advances in information technology. We seek to meet this objective by utilizing various new telecommunications technologies to serve distance education students.

I would like to express support for the AfriSpace proposa to operate a direct digita satellite broadcasting service throughout Africa and the Middle East. Our institution is keenly interested in having access to such a satellite for the purpose of developing and maintaining lines of communications with regional institutions of higher education and ministries of education. We are very interested in the opportunity to exchange educational programming in cooperation with local educational institutions in various
