I am responding about your organization authorizing a new frequency for Light Squared. Did you know there is a possibility of that frequency interfering with GPS. We are farmers out in South Dakota and rely on GPS technology exclusively to farm. Don't think we aren't aware of the CEO of Light Squared being investigated by the SEC. Also, that he donated money to the DNC and has been to the White House. This smells of corruption. ConAg, and all the other big farm organizations are against this, so you might want to rethink your decision because all the facts will come out on this case.
