Re: Request for Special Temporary Authority; SAT-STA-20061002-00114

Dear Ms. Dortch:

On 28 March 2007, in response to an inquiry from the International Bureau, undersigned counsel provided the following information inadvertently omitted from earlier ex partes regarding several markets. Specifically, I indicated that the percentage of the market population receiving repeater coverage that receives that coverage from variant repeaters in New York is 18%, in Knoxville is 9%, in San Antonio is 7%, in Norfolk is 3%, in Houston is 3%, in Las Vegas is 2%, in Hartford is 2%, and in New Orleans is 1%. I also indicated that these figures reflect residential population figures and do not take into account consumers who receive signals from variant repeaters while traveling on roads or highways.

Please let me know if you have any questions about this filing.

Sincerely yours,

Scott Blake Harris
