Dear Ms. Dortch:

On February 5, 2007, Jane Mago, David Layer and the undersigned of the National Association of Broadcasters ("NAB"), and Frank R. Jazzo of Fletcher, Heald & Hildreth, on behalf of the Alaska Broadcasters Association, met with Fred Campbell of Chairman Martin's office to discuss the above-captioned applications for Special Temporary Authority ("STAs").

Specifically, the parties discussed Sirius Satellite Radio, Inc. and XM Radio, Inc.'s requests for STA approval of their as-built terrestrial repeaters that both have operated for some time inconsistently with the STA authorizations of the repeaters in question. We urged the Commission to place both the 30-day and 180-day STA requests filed by Sirius and XM regarding these repeaters on public notice so that interested parties may have an opportunity to comment on the satellite radio companies' evidence and arguments related to the legitimacy of the repeaters. We also requested that the Commission explore an investigation into the facts and circumstances surrounding both companies' deployment of the relevant repeaters.

The parties also discussed Sirius' request for STA approval to provide service in Alaska and Hawaii. We addressed whether Sirius' use of terrestrial repeaters in these circumstances is permissible under the Commission's regulatory regime governing satellite radio terrestrial repeaters.

Please direct any questions concerning this matter to the undersigned.

Respectfully submitted,

BROADCASTERS
