

DESCRIPTION OF TRANSACTION AND RELATED BROADCAST APPLICATIONS

On September 19, 2019, Nexstar Media Group, Inc. (“NMGI”), pursuant to Commission consent, completed its acquisition of Tribune Media Company (“Tribune”) in a cash merger transaction (the “Merger”).¹ Following the consummation of the Merger and related divestitures, Tribune is now a direct 100% subsidiary of Nexstar Broadcasting, Inc. (“NBI” and, collectively with NMGI, “Nexstar”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of NMGI. Tribune, through various intervening entities, is the indirect 100% parent of 25 subsidiaries which hold broadcast and related non-broadcast licenses.

For business and tax reasons, Nexstar intends to implement a reorganization of Tribune’s downstream structure (the “Restructuring”). The Restructuring will have the following pro forma effects with regard to the Tribune licensee subsidiaries:

- Of the current 25 Tribune licensee subsidiaries, twenty (20) will be merged out of existence. Following these mergers and the concurrent merge-outs of certain intervening upstream entities, the licenses currently held by these 20 entities will be held either by Tribune or by Tribune Broadcasting Company II, LLC, a direct 100% subsidiary of Tribune.
- The remaining five (5) Tribune licensee subsidiaries will remain in existence and continue to hold their Commission licenses, but these subsidiaries will undergo pro forma transfers of control because of the merge-outs of intervening entities in their upstream chains.

On December 6, 2019, applications were filed seeking Commission consent to the Restructuring in connection with the various Part 73 and Part 74 broadcast licenses held by the current Tribune licensee subsidiaries. These applications, which are before the Media Bureau, seek consent to the pro forma assignments of license or transfers of control (as applicable) resulting from the Restructuring as described above. The instant application is one of several applications being filed seeking FCC consent to the Restructuring with respect to the non-broadcast licenses held by the current Tribune licensee subsidiaries.
