

FAA Notification

Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) notification is not required because all ESV antenna structures will not be taller than existing structures found on the vessels.