

FAA Notification Not Required

Per Section 17.14(a) of the FCC's rules, FAA notification is not required, as the antenna structure is located in an area with structures of equal or greater heights.