

EXHIBIT E

FCC Form 312, Response to Question E20: FAA NOTIFICATION

FAA Notification Not Required

Per Section 17.14(a) of the FCC's rules, FAA notification is not required, as the hub antenna structure is located in an area with structures of equal or greater heights. Additionally, the remote terminals are 1.2 meters or less and would normally be operated in areas with structures of equal or greater heights.