

FAA Notification Not Required

Per Part 17 of the Commission's Rules, FAA notification is not required as the antenna structure is located in an area with structures of equal or greater heights.