

FAA Notification

FAA notification is not required because the total height above ground is less than 6.1 meters and the antenna structure will be located immediately adjacent to a building that is 6.7 meters tall.