Statement in Support of Application for Special Temporary Authority

Pursuant to Section 25.120 of the rules, Applicant LibCo, Inc. ("LibCo") and transferee Raycom Media, Inc ("Raycom") respectfully request Special Temporary Authority ("STA") to continue to operate a Domestic Satellite Temporary Fixed (Transportable) Earth Station E050315 following the closing on a multi-station transfer of control transaction and during the pendency of its Form 312 application for transfer of control authority (File No. SES-T/C-20051220-01773). (The initial authorization for E050315 was issued December 5, 2005, so that station was not included in the transfer of control application filed September 15, 2005 (SES-T/C-20050915-01262, which covered other earth stations that are part of the transaction.) There are no changes in the operating parameters.

LibCo is the licensee of station WALB-TV, Albany, Georgia, which uses the earth station to provide live news feeds, including weather and emergency information of importance to its viewers. Granting the STA for LibCo to continue to use the earth station with WALB-TV under new ownership would allow the station to continue to bring this valuable programming to its viewers without interruption.

The referenced application is part of a multi-station transaction to transfer control of LibCo, to Raycom (File Nos. BTCCT-20050909ADC, et al), to which the Media Bureau has given its consent. Based on the Media Bureau consent (and consents of the International Bureau and Wireless Bureau to transfer control of all of the other authorizations involved), the parties plan to close on the transaction on January 31, 2006.
