American General Finance, Inc.
Application for Transfer of Control
Request for Special Temporary Authorization

DESCRIPTION OF REQUEST FOR SPECIAL TEMPORARY AUTHORIZATION

American General Finance, Inc. (“AGF”) hereby requests special temporary authorization (“STA”) to permit the consummation of a transfer of control of AGF from the shareholders of its ultimate parent entity, American International Group, Inc. (“AIG”), to AIG Credit Facility Trust (the “Trust”), a trust established for the benefit of the United States Treasury in connection with the government bailout of AIG. AGF requests expedited treatment of this request, as the transfer of control could be effectuated as early as February 4, 2009.

As part of the U.S. government’s effort to rescue one of the key players in the nation’s financial system, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York (“FRBNY”) entered into a loan transaction with AGF’s ultimate parent company, AIG. As part of that loan transaction, AIG is obligated to issue convertible preferred stock (the “Voting Stock”) to a trust established for the benefit of the United States Treasury. The Voting Stock will represent 77.9 percent of the outstanding voting power of the stockholders of AIG.

On January 16, 2009, the FRBNY entered into a trust agreement with Jill M. Considine, Chester B. Feldberg and Douglas L. Foshie (each, a “Trustee” and collectively, the “Trustees”) to establish the Trust for purposes of holding and eventually disposing of the Voting Stock. The Trustees were selected by the FRBNY in consultation with the United States Treasury Department. Pursuant to the terms of the trust agreement, the Trustees will have absolute discretion and control over the voting of the Voting Stock held in the Trust. Each Trustee has equal rights and authority under the terms of the trust agreement. Through its ownership of the Voting Stock, the Trust will own an indirect interest in all domestic and international subsidiaries owned directly or indirectly by AIG. The Trustees will leave the day-to-day management of AIG, however, to the persons charged with such management. The FRBNY will not exercise any control over the voting of the Voting Stock. The Trustees may sell or otherwise dispose of shares of the Voting Stock only with the prior approval of the FRBNY, after its consultation with the Treasury Department.

AGF is in the process of preparing an application for regular authorization of the transfer of control on FCC Form 312. This STA request, however, contains all of the information regarding the transaction and the Trust relevant to the transfer of control application.

AGF respectfully requests that the Commission act on this STA request on an expedited basis. The leaders of our country have acknowledged the severity of the current economic downturn, and the U.S. government has already undertaken extraordinary efforts to rescue distressed financial institutions; the survival of which the government has determined are critical to the economic health of the U.S. The transaction at issue is part of this undertaking. AIG and numerous government agencies and offices have been working diligently toward implementing the loan transaction since September 2008 but only recently finalized the terms of the issuance of the Voting Stock. AGF received the details of the Voting Stock issuance just last week. As a relatively small subsidiary of AIG, AGF has no control over the timing of the issuance of the Voting Stock to the Trust. In light of the unprecedented government action, postponing issuance of the Voting Stock to allow time for the Commission to grant of consent to a full transfer of control application simply is not an option.

Moreover, swift grant of this STA is in the public interest because it will allow AGF to continue to operate its VSAT network in compliance with the Communications Act, as amended, and the Commission's rules after the transfer of control occurs. The VSAT facility is a private network that AGF uses in its consumer finance business operations. Among other things, AGF uses this facility to manage, distribute and collect information among its headquarters and its branch offices and to facilitate administration of lending, financing and other credit transactions with its customers. The public interest would be served by allowing AGF to continue its authorized use of the VSAT facility and avoid disruption to its business operations pending the filing and the grant of the transfer of control application. Further, the U.S. government and its central bank have already determined this transaction to be necessary in the public interest, and thus, expedited grant of this STA is warranted.
