

REQUEST FOR EXTENSION OF SPECIAL TEMPORARY AUTHORITY

RTM Remote Transmission Management (“RTM”), the proposed assignee of transportable transmit-receive earth station E930467, hereby respectfully requests an extension of its special temporary authority, pursuant to Section 25.120 of the Commission’s Rules, for a period of thirty (30) days, or until July 14, 2010, to continue to operate earth station E930467 at the parameters of the existing license. RTM’s current STA was granted on May 14, 2010 and expires on June 14, 2010.

The STA extension is necessary because the application for the assignment of the E930467 license (File No. SES-ASG-20100510-00565) from KVUE Television, Inc. to RTM remains pending. The Commission issued a Public Notice of acceptance of the assignment application on May 26, 2010 (Report No. SES-01246). RTM is using the facility for satellite feeds to cover the ongoing oil spill disaster in the Gulf of Mexico. This facility provides needed service to the public and the numerous communities affected by this unprecedented incident.

Accordingly, grant of this extension request will serve the public interest by ensuring that this important programming and coverage can continue to be delivered to the public.
