

Description of Transaction

By this and other concurrently-filed applications, Evening Post Industries, Inc. (“EPI”), on behalf of the EPI licensee subsidiaries listed on Exhibit A hereto (the “Licensees”), requests the Commission’s consent to the concurrent (i) pro forma creation of a new, wholly-owned holding company in the EPI ownership chain, EPI Group, LLC (“EPI Group”); and (ii) pro forma transfer of non-voting membership interests in Cordillera Communications, LLC (“Cordillera”) from EPI to EPI Group (collectively, the “Reorganization”). Organizational charts reflecting the pre- and post-transaction structures are attached as Exhibit B.

Upon the Reorganization, which is subject to shareholder approval, (i) existing EPI shareholders would contribute all of their stock in EPI to EPI Group and would receive, in exchange, LLC membership interests in EPI Group,<sup>1</sup> (ii) EPI would merge with an existing wholly-owned subsidiary of EPI Group, with EPI surviving the merger as a wholly-owned subsidiary of EPI Group, and (iii) non-voting LLC membership interests in Cordillera currently held by EPI would be transferred to EPI Group.

The Reorganization qualifies for pro forma treatment because it involves no substantial change in the ownership or control of the Licensees. Prior to the Reorganization, EPI shareholders control the Licensees by virtue of their capital stock in EPI, which ultimately owns and controls the Licensees. While current EPI shareholders will have the option to vote against the Reorganization and exchange their shares for cash, it is expected that all currently-attributable EPI shareholders will elect to exchange their shares for voting interests in EPI Group. Thus, following the Reorganization, current EPI shareholders, including the attributable shareholders in EPI, will control the Licensees by virtue of their ownership and control of 100% of the membership interests in EPI Group, which ultimately will own and control the Licensees.

In connection with this transaction, the parties intend to enter into agreements regarding organization and governance of EPI Group. These agreements, which will comply with the Commission’s rules and policies, have not been finalized but will be filed with the Commission upon execution to the extent required by Section 73.3613 of the Commission’s rules.

<sup>1</sup> As described in more detail in Exhibit 12, EPI shareholders that currently are non-attributable would be subject to customary LLC insulation provisions in the EPI Group operating agreement upon consummation of the Reorganization.

<sup>3</sup> As part of the Reorganization, holders of voting stock in EPI that do not hold attributable interests in EPI prior to the Reorganization will, upon consummation of the Reorganization, be subject to insulation provisions in the EPI Group operating agreement that will cause such holders to be non-attributable owners of EPI Group. Thus, the attributable shareholders that hold approximately 71% of the voting shares in EPI will, upon consummation of the Reorganization, hold 100% of the voting interests in EPI Group, and the non-attributable shareholders that currently hold 29% of the voting shares of EPI will not hold a voting interest in EPI Group. The chart above reflects the proportional increase in voting power that results from this change by including, for each attributable person, both the voting interest in EPI Group they will hold and, in parentheses and italics, the voting interest in EPI they currently hold.

The EPI Group operating agreement will provide that, after the Reorganization, insulated members may elect to exercise voting rights with respect to their interests, subject to the prior approval of EPI Group based a review of their FCC qualifications. Members making such an election will be reported on subsequent ownership reports reflecting EPI Group ownership. Additionally, while current EPI shareholders will have the option to vote against the Reorganization and exchange their shares for cash, it is expected that all currently-attributable holders of voting shares in EPI will elect to exchange their shares for voting interests in EPI Group.
