Ownership and Control of EQT Holdings Coöperatief W.A.

EQT Holdings Coöperatief W.A (EQT Coöperatief) is not a corporation but is a Dutch cooperative association of its members. The members vote, based on their voting rights, to appoint managers of the organization. No single member of EQT Coöperatief owns 10% or more of the economic rights in the organization. Similarly, no member of EQT Coöperatief holds 10% or more of the voting rights under EQT Coöperatief's articles of formation. Instead, those articles provide for relatively equal voting rights for each member, and there are enough members so that no one member has 10% or more of the voting rights in EQT Coöperatief pursuant to such articles.

There is, however, a voting agreement among the members of EQT Coöperatief that allocates voting rights for operational issues differently. While these voting rights are also broadly dispersed among EQT Coöperatief's members, one member of EQT Coöperatief exercises 12.97% of the voting rights for operational issues under the agreement. The ownership information for this member is provided below.
